Jennifer Jo Cobb has managed an accomplished racing career despite the odds against her: being a female in a male-dominated sport and having no budget to compete against teams spending millions per year. It is through vision, determination and perseverance that Jennifer rose to the top of her sport, racing in the ranks of the NASCAR Busch Series, NASCAR's second highest ranked series.

Jennifer's speeches contain many anecdotes about her experiences and travels, which will no doubt have your audience laughing and at many times, relating, to the trials and tribulations that she has overcome. Speech topics are suggested at left, and may also be customized to tailor the message to your group's needs.
